God flooded the world because it was full of sin, but he chose one righteous man - Noah - to save. Noah and his family built an ark to withstand the flood, and they took two of every kind of animal with them on the ark. (Genesis 6)